2. Product Usage Limitations and Warnings; Disclaimer

- a. Modification and Misuse. Soul Composites has delivered the Product units ready for use in accordance with its specifications, procedures and related instructions. Please review all specifications, instructions and Safety Data Sheets prior to use of Product. Soul Composites expressly disclaims any and all liability associated with any Products that have been contaminated, changed, modified or altered in any way by any person or entity other than Soul Composites. Soul Composites also disclaims any and all liability associated with any Product unit that has been subjected to misuse, abuse, accident, neglect, breakage, alteration, damage, improper storage or handling, or any use beyond its technical capabilities and environmental constraints. For the avoidance of doubt, "misuse" for this purpose includes but is not limited to any one or more of the following: failing to follow all proper procedures and instructions for Product use; mixing the Product with glues, solvents or other chemicals; exposing the Product to extremes of temperature, humidity or other environmental conditions (whether in use or in storage); or using the Product for mass production purposes rather than prototype molding. Any of the foregoing actions or events could cause the Product to fail and could expose the user to increased risk of serious injury, damage to premises or personal property or production delays.

Individual experience with Product may vary, and Soul Composites cannot guarantee the performance of the Product under the many processing variables associated with working with the Product such as complexity of the project, aptitude of the user and processing conditions such as environment. Because no two applications are quite the same, a small test application to determine suitability is recommended if material performance is in question. User shall solely determine suitability of the Product for the intended application and assume all associated risks and liability.
